Category: 2009 Events

Additional Information:

With an ever-increasing amount of Ethernet equipment being deployed on the plant floor, the need to understand industrial Ethernet is growing daily. Join Gescan and N-Tron for a one-day seminar to see how industrial Ethernet differentiates itself and why it is important to deploy the correct devices. This seminar will help educate people on the decisions and technology available as well as assist in choosing the right equipment to deploy across your facility.
